Boarding Policy and Statement of Boarding Principles

Aim

The aim of this policy is to provide an overview of the arrangements for boarding at Ackworth School (the School). More detailed information on specific subjects is available in other policy related documents.

Overview

The School is an independent coeducational school for day and boarding pupils. It was founded in 1779 by the Society of Friends and as such is based upon Quaker principles of Peace, Truth, Equality, Sustainability and Simplicity. The school day is structured for boarding, and day students are encouraged to participate in the extended day.

The School has one Boarding House, with two separate wings, one for boys and one for girls, It is located in the main school building. The Boarding House is led by the Head of Boarding and four Assistant House staff (some are resident and some are not).

Boarding Principles

In order to ensure the pastoral care, welfare, health and safety of its pupils and therefore its boarders, the School aims to:

- Provide each pupil with a calm, caring, supportive extended family environment in their Boarding House.
- Ensure that the atmosphere in the School and in the Boarding House is calm and friendly and that there is an emphasis on integrity, tolerance and respect for others.
- Ensure that the boarding staff have the appropriate training and resources to discharge their duty of care effectively.
- Monitor and develop the programme of pastoral care throughout the school and Boarding House.
- Maintain an effective anti-bullying programme throughout the school and in the Boarding House.
- Safeguard and promote the welfare of all pupils whilst at school and on all school trips.
- Promote good behaviour, responsibility and self-discipline amongst pupils.
- Develop support, good judgement and a sense of community in all pupils.

Boarding House Ethos

The Boarding Houses is designed to operate on the principle of an extended family. Older pupils, and especially the House Captains are given responsibility for mentoring the younger pupils and for other various tasks within the house, but this is monitored closely. The Head of Boarding and the House team are expected to, and do, get to know their pupils and provide the support, guidance and encouragement that they need from time to time.

Child Welfare and Protection

The School's aim is to provide the very best care for the pupils entrusted to us. We aim to ensure that every pupil is happy at School and feels that they have a productive part to play in the Boarding House and in the School.

All staff at the school are given regular training in Child Protection matters. All pupils are encouraged to speak to a member of the house team, a member of the Senior Management Team, a member of the Health Centre Team or any member of staff if they have a problem or become aware of another pupil who has a problem.

- The School operates its own Health Centre, with a trained nurse on duty during the School day. Pupils also have access to a School Doctor and local medical facilities.
- Pupils with emotional problems are carefully monitored and, when necessary, are referred to our Mental Health and Wellbeing Practitioner. They will be carefully assessed and where necessary will be referred to the local Child and Adolescent Medical Health Service (CAMHS) office.
- Relevant phone numbers for Child Line, NSPCC, Samaritans and ISI are displayed prominently in the Boarding House:
 - Mental Health and Wellbeing Practitioner 01977 624311
 - Child Line 0800 1111
 - ISI 0207 600 0100
 - NSPCC 0800 800 5000
 - Samaritans 116 123
 - The Children's Commissioner 0800 528 0731

House Sanctions and Rewards

As far as possible, the Head of Boarding and the House team act in loco parentis and, like all good parents, provide a caring, supportive environment for the children in their care. The Boarding House has its own system of rewards and sanctions working within the School's broader system, with the emphasis on encouragement and reward, rather than punishment.

Ackworth School

The School has an active and effective Anti-Bullying Programme and Boarding House Staff are constantly vigilant for any form of harassment or bullying. Any cases will be dealt with according to the school Anti-Bullying Policy.

Communication

The School is a 'home from home' for our boarding pupils and therefore considerable care is taken to ensure that:

- The Head of Boarding and the House team get to know pupils and, as far as possible, their parents as quickly as possible.
- Parents receive regular updates on their child's progress.
- Parents are informed of any problems that their child might be having and encouraged to work with the school to resolve those issues.
- Parents inform House Staff if they become aware of any problems with their child.

Regulatory Compliance

The School works hard to ensure that it meets all of the regulatory requirements set out in the National Minimum Boarding Standards and in other relevant legislation.

Regular checks are made to ensure that appropriate Health and Safety standards are met in all aspects of school life.

The school is subject to regular inspection by the Independent Schools Inspectorate to ensure that all regulatory requirements are met or exceeded.

Management and Administration

The Head of Boarding is ultimately responsible to the Head for the smooth and effective running of their boarding house. In practice they report directly to the Deputy Head who is responsible for pastoral care in the school.

Weekly boarding meetings are chaired by the Deputy Head and are used for promulgation of information and discussions about topical issues or pupils who are causing concern.
